

14th International Congress on the Archaeology
of the Ancient Near East

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

Palestinian archaeology and archaeologists: A selected overview of more than 200 years of archaeology in the West Bank and Gaza Strip

BESNARD B. ^{1}, NAGAGREH G. ²*

¹ Eveha International, Laboratory Archorient (UMR 5133, Lyon, France), Lyon, France

² Assistant Professor at Dar al-Kalima University, Bethlehem, Bethlehem, Palestinian Territories

*Corresponding author

Abstract

For over 200 years now, Palestine has been a high place of archaeology in the Middle East. Since the beginning of the 19th century, the Ottomans, the British, the Israelis, the Jordanians and the Egyptians were successively in charge of archaeological missions and of the preservation and development of the remains that have been discovered. It is only in 1994, with the creation of the Department of Antiquities under the control of the Palestinian Authority, that the archaeological question in the West Bank and Gaza Strip came under local management. Supported by local universities (e.g., Bir Zeit, an-Najah in Nablus, al-Quds in Jerusalem), as well as international cooperation and institutes (IFPO, CRIBL, etc.), the department is today the guardian of a territory covered by more than 2,000 archaeological sites, 10,000 features and more than 60,000 historic buildings ranging from the Paleolithic to the contemporary period (Taha 2007). The Palestinian archaeology and archaeologists workshop therefore aims to provide an overview of the Palestinian archaeology since its beginnings. It will also look at the ongoing archaeological research and at the future of a dynamic archaeology, which is nevertheless a collateral victim of the political vicissitudes of an increasingly unstable region. The speakers at this workshop will therefore be looking at Palestinian archaeology through the various players involved (Palestinian and international archaeologists, universities, the Department of Antiquities, foreign institutes, UNESCO, NGOs, museums, etc.), as well as the sites, regions and periods brought to light by archaeologists in the region.

Keywords

Archaeology, Heritage, Palestine, Actors, Overview

Program

- Jean-Baptiste HUMBERT, Former head of archaeological study laboratory at EBAF (Ecole Biblique et Archéologique Française de Jérusalem), "La structure du discours archéologique à Gaza. De qui hérite-t-on et qui est héritier ?"
- Amina SHALALDEH, BA in Cultural and Sustainable tourism, Dar al-Kalima University, Bethlehem, "The Present and Future of UNESCO in Palestine"
- Dr Iman SACA, Vice president for academic affairs, Bethlehem University, "Gender and Archaeology in Palestine: Women's Growing involvement"
- Dr Hamdan TAHA, Independent Researcher, former Vice - President for Academic Affairs and Dean of Graduate Studies, Al-Istiqlal University (2019-2020), former deputy minister for Tourism and Antiquities, (2012-2014), and Assistant deputy minister for heritage (2004-2012), General Director (1994-2004) of at the Department of Antiquities in Palestine. Coordinator of the Palestine History and Heritage Project, "The History of Palestine Project: Toward an Inclusive Narrative"
- Dr Laura VIÉ, Archéologue, responsable de l'antenne de Jérusalem/Territoires Palestiniens, Ifpo, Lab. OrAM, "Actualité et enjeux de l'archéologie byzantine française dans les Territoires Palestiniens"
- Dr Mahmoud HAWARI, part-time Professor of Archaeology, Bethlehem University, "The Saljuq Citadel of Jerusalem: New Historical, Archaeological and Architectural evidence"
- Alexandra DE VARAX, University Lumière-Lyon 2, Lab. Hisoma, "Epigraphie byzantine en Palestine Salutaris"
- Dr Hussein MADINA, Associate researcher Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne/Ifpo, "How the climatic/environmental research oriented the archaeological work and its interpretation in Palestine. (Environnemental archaeology)"
- Dr Issam HALAYQA, Birzeit University, "The Rule of the Persian Numismatic Finds in the Cultural History of Palestine"
- Dr Mohammad AL-ZARD, Independent Researcher, "200 years of archaeology in the Gaza strip: history, heritage and popular perspective"
- Dr Vincent MICHEL, Professeur d'Archéologie de l'Antiquité classique d'Orient, Université de Poitiers, Lab. HeRMA (UR 15071), "Hébron : des identités au cœur des conflits"
- Dr Blandine BESNARD, Field Manager Eveha International, Lab. Archéorient (UMR 5133) & Dr Ghassan NAGAGREH, Assistant professor, Dar Al-Kalima University-Bethlehem, "What do we know about the Bronze Age in Palestine: a history of research"

Type of paper

Workshop