Abstract

The archaeological archives dating back to the time of the French Mandate (1919-1946) have provided us with a lot of new data that had not been known for several years. We will try to provide a synthesis of the research we have carried out in recent years on sites such as Mishirfeh-Qa?na, Tell Sh'eirat, Salhiyeh-Doura Europos, Baghouz, ?ama ... What is certain is that the fluctuating geopolitical situation of the Levant region does not allow for continuous planning of archaeological work, and this is where the importance of the archives in our possession lies, which must be exploited, studied and published.
